CAMBRIDGE HIGH AND LATIN SCHOOL

Mr. Cleveland

The Class of 1939 takes this opportunity to say how grateful we are for the sympathetic understanding and keen interest which our headmaster, Mr. Cleveland, has shown toward us throughout four years at C.H.L.S. Our sincere hope is that in the future he will look upon us with some of the respect and esteem with which we now regard him.

Dedication

With great affection, we dedicate this Year Book to Mr. Bramhall, who at all times has willingly given us his cooperation and assistance, mingled with sympathy, steadfastness, and vision.

THOMAS LONG BRAMHALL
Assistant Headmaster

Thomas Long Bramhall

Prologue

Four years at C.H.L.S. have glided swiftly by. Before us lies the vast unknown of the future, in which a wealth of new experiences cannot fail to dim the happy memories of our school days. If this book delays forgetfulness and awakens, even for a brief moment, pleasant reminiscence, we have definitely achieved our purpose.

COMMENCEMENT, 1939

A hill soars into wreathing mist
Where earth and sky keep hidden tryst.
The secrets of the years,
Until tomorrow nears,
Are hoarded here.

Gay city lights gleam on this hill,
The altar fires of hope and will,
From which all cities rise.
They shine in youth's round eyes,
Kindling new fires.

The sunset glow of steel afire,
The silver sheen of soaring spire,
Cathedral stained glass hues—
All these blend with sky's blues,
Atop the hill.

There bridges span the gushing stream—
All nature molds into a theme
Beneath a skilled young hand;
There waits the sky and land
For conquering.

New twinkling eyes of towns shall peer
Into the sky, some future year;
Then we shall lead new youth
To climb in search of truth
Up lighted paths.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

The unknown music of the spheres
Swells at the meeting-place of years,
The ridge of this high hill.
Here mystery beckons still.
Here beauty waits.

The challenge of the future lies
Atop this hill that meets the skies.
Be glad for every root
That helps a stumbling foot
Mount surely to the beckoning crest
Where we shall find the world's great test.

Pauline Sorem

A Song at Graduation

O Alma Mater, from thee we depart,
For time bids us hasten along to our goal;
We cannot help grieving
That now we are leaving,
And so we sing to thee from the depths of our souls.

Thy torch burns before us to show the way,
It beams and it gleams on darkness around;
We heed thy command,
And united we will band
To carry forth the light which here we have found.

Thy precepts will guide us though rocks be ahead,
For Truth and Beauty must ever prevail;
With courage strong,
Though the way be hard and long,
O Alma Mater dear, we never will fail.

CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago, we, the Class of 1939, sat on various grammar school platforms throughout the city to receive our diplomas, which were to be the keys that would open to us the magic and awe-inspiring world of "high school."

The great day arrived when we finally entered upon our high school career, surrounded by many new friends and influences. What high hopes we had of becoming shining lights! How very faithfully we did our homework, and how regularly our names appeared on the much-coveted honor roll! How much we owe to the master, the dean, the teachers, and the older pupils who helped us through the first bewildering weeks can never be estimated. As all things do, our freshman year passed rapidly away, and then came the glad day when, on the face of our report cards, was written "Sophomore."

In the fall of 1936, a much more sophisticated group nonchalantly paraded from one class to another. We were no longer strangers; we were really a part of C.H.L.S. We were amazed at the bewilderment of the freshmen, smugly conscious of our own importance and our superiority to these children. The steady routine of classes was broken by frequent assemblies, at which our harmonica band made its appearance. Gradually the number on the honor roll decreased, as more and more of us realized how foolish it was to waste our valuable time in studying.

Then came that glorious September when we were Juniors—full fledged upper classmen! Hardly had we accustomed ourselves to this new dignity, when the time to elect our first class officers arrived. At every turn in the corridors we were met by enthusiastic politicians who earnestly solicited our votes. Such unimportant matters as home-work assignments and weekly tests were ignored, as long-suffering teachers beheld their blackboards covered with names and slogans scrawled in vari-colored chalk. After a spirited campaign, the following officers were elected:

President	Lawrence Mahoney
Vice-President	James Boyle
Secretary	John Driscoll
Treasurer	John Moriarty

Capable committees were also chosen.

On Friday, May 13, 1938, we held our first dance at the Hotel Commander. Disdaining to meekly follow the custom established by preceding classes, we sponsored a sport hop in place of the usual formal. Those who attended, comfortably attired in everyday clothes and spared the agony of wearing extremely high-heeled shoes or stiff collars, were loud in their praise of this enjoyable dance.

While we were engrossed in our many activities, the year slipped by, and in an unbelievably short time, we had attained the high position of Seniors. Despite the handicap of the two-platoon system, we have had a very successful year.

The class officers elected this year are:

President	Lawrence Mahoney
Vice-President	James Boyle
Secretary	Helen Hall
Treasurer	John Driscoll

The able faculty advisor of The Review, Miss Mary P. Bligh, was appointed dean of sophomore girls, and our magazine began this year with new advisors and a new staff. They set about their tasks with enthusiasm. Their success is shown by the fact that The Review was awarded a prize by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and three new members were added to our chapter of the Quill and Scroll. They are Editor John Reynolds, Assistant-Editor Marie McCabe, and Pauline Sorem. Faculty advisors, Miss Alice Kelley, Mr. Louis N. Fougere, and Mr. Joseph Santoro, untiring in their help and encouragement, deserve much credit.

Notable among the social activities of this year were the G. A. A. formal and the K. B. formal, which were huge successes.

One of the highlights of the year was the drama; George Bernard Shaw's extremely amusing "Pygmalion" was produced before an appreciative audience.

Sudden, intensive cramming for college boards and the flurry of exchanging class pictures make us realize that the end of the year is approaching. Soon the day of days, June 6, will be here, when the Class of 1939 will assemble for the last time as a part of C.H.L.S. Then, after our reception on June 8, we shall set out on different paths. In the busy course of our lives, many of us will never meet again. Only when turning the pages of the year book shall we remember our pleasant companionships and the many happy hours spent here at dear old C.H.L.S. Some of our number will attain outstanding success, and some will never reach their goal; but all who live up to the high ideals fostered here through the untiring efforts of our sympathetic principal, Mr. Cleveland, and our teachers, will be useful, happy citizens, respected in their community, and a credit to our Alma Mater.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"All the world's a stage" and we of the Dramatic Club enjoyed the great success we had in contributing in our own little way, our every effort to promote stage work in our school.

Our activities were many, and several compliments were paid to the school in the form of invitations to take part in various outside entertainments. In March and again in April the Drama Cast presented parts of "Pygmalion" for the benefit of the blind and we were thrilled to see the expressions of rapt attention on the faces of these old people.

Chris Burke, the Club's president, and Howard Miller, a member of the Senior Drama cast, took part in several radio programs, sponsored by the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Great honors were also brought to the Club by the many members who received scholarships.

The New England Conservatory gave scholarships to Gwen Gilbert, Catherine Taber and Tom Curran for their work in "Pygmalion". Tom Curran's is for full four years tuition.

Some time later, Chris Burke won a scholarship to Staley College.

All these winners feel that they owe their success in large part to the coaching and cooperation of Miss Hartigan, Miss Breau and Miss O'Keefe.

C. Taber, H. Miller.

Front Row: G. Gilbert, A. deCoen, C. Burke, J. Lovoi.

A very interesting fact about the cast of the Senior Drama is that it consisted entirely of Dramatic Club members. The Club as a whole considers this an honor and we wish to congratulate them on their splendid work.

The enthusiasm displayed by the entire school in regard to our Spring Formal is our reward for the work we did and we wish to thank the student body for their generous support. This formal was the highlight of our entire year and we enjoyed its success more than any of our other activities. The dance took place on May 29, at the Hotel Continental, Cambridge, and the proceeds were used for our scholarship fund.

In dedicating our past work to the Club in which we enjoyed giving our all, we the future members of the Dramatic Club alumnae sincerely wish the club every good fortune.

SENIOR DRAMA

On the icy night of February 10, 1939, Pygmalion's creation of the beautiful Galatea was relived on the stage of the Rindge Auditorium. Eliza Doolittle, a grimy, ill-bred flower girl was brought into the luxurious home of Henry Higgins, who had wagered with a friend that he would soon convert her into a duchess. Mr. Higgins kept his end of the bargain by surrounding Eliza with limitless advantages and personally supervising the improvement of Eliza's speech. The seemingly impossible transition was completed within a few months. Eliza, now a lady of charm and culture, mingled with the society of London, as Mr. Higgins looked on holding his breath for fear that she would make a mistake which would expose her real identity.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS
B. Gilbert, T. Curran, C. Burke, G. Wood.

Mr. Higgins won the wager with his friend, Colonel Pickering, but did not win the heart of the former flower girl.

Characters

Gwen Gilbert gave a remarkable performance in the role of Eliza Doolittle, the gutter snipe, in which she wielded the Cockney dialect like a native of England. She was equally superb in the role of Eliza, the lady, in which her grace, beauty, and versatility were revealed. Christopher Burke deserves a round of applause for his portrayal of the fussing and fuming teacher of phonetics, Henry Higgins, who hurt people with his lack of consideration and finally got hurt himself by Eliza's lack of consideration when she went off and got married.

SENIOR DRAMA COMMITTEE

Rita Lombardi, Arline Larson, Everett Hart, Florence Hughes

Catherine Taber, as the dignified housekeeper, Mrs. Pearce, who had her master and his household under her very capable thumb, stole every scene that she played in as well as the hearts of the audience. If there are still peals of laughter echoing from the rafters of the Rindge Auditorium it is because of Thomas Curran's sterling characterization of Mr. Alfred Doolittle. Behind a disguise of mustache, bald-spot, gaudy suit, and bird cage, Thomas had the house in convulsions with the antics of the loquacious socialist.

The mother and daughter team of Mary Connors and Barbara Fogelin went over beautifully. Mary Connors, Mrs. Eynsford Hill, looked on with maternal pride as Barbara, Miss Clara Hill, fluttered through the scene and tried to flutter into Henry Higgins' heart.

Howard Miller, in the guise of the very human Colonel Pickering, received our approval as he took Eliza's part in her stand against Henry Higgins. Alma DeCoen was a very convincing Mrs. Higgins who pampered her pride and joy, Henry. That very polished, perhaps a bit effeminate gentleman, Freddie Hill, was really George McMahon putting on a fine performance.

From all appearances Agnes Goldberg can play that very important character, the parlor maid, to perfection. Joseph Lavoi and Everett Hart made their parts of bystanders vivid. Joseph Lavoi showed what a really great actor can do in a small part.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

With such a bevy of fine actresses and actors it is impossible to say which one played his part best, but we all know that "Pygmalion" would not have reached such dizzy heights had not that grand person behind the scenes, Miss Lillian Hartigan, with her Drama Committee Thomas Forde, Florence Hughes, Arline Larson, Rita Lombardi and chairman, Everett Hart, so unceasingly given of her time, sage advice, and direction.

Thank you Miss Hartigan, Drama Committee, actresses, actors and George Bernard Shaw for "Pygmalion."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE TO ACT ON SHEA PLAN

NEW LOUNGE FOR LATIN SCHOOL STUDENTS

Committeeman Billy Shea introduced a plan to have a lounge erected in the basement of the Latin School (at last night's meeting of the school fathers). Shea made the motion at the start of the meeting. After a bitter controversy between Mr. Shea and Miss Stella Waitkus, who opposed the plan, the motion was upheld by a vote of four to three. Those favoring the plan were: Mayor Lawrence Mahoney, Dr. Isadore Pickler, Mr. John Hoell and, of course, Mr. Shea. Those opposing the plan were: Miss Waitkus, Mr. Walter Fraleigh and Mr. Ashod Jelalian. It is hoped that work will start on the first of next month.

Congo, Africa, June 1—Joe Horan, world renowned traveler, will arrive here today for his annual bungle hunt. John Mills, the human dictionary, will accompany Mr. Horan.

AUTO CRASHES ON MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE

Cambridge, Mass., June 2—A car, driven by Vincent Rowe, of Charles Street, crashed through the store window of the Conte Brothers Drug Store on Mass. Avenue. Rowe was badly shaken, but he received first aid from the proprietors, Felix and Anthony Conte.

Cambridge, Mass., June 2—Jim Cole, political boss of Ward Two, has been appointed head of the Department of Weights and Measures, succeeding Joseph Lovoi, who has been connected with the department for ten years. Mayor Lawrence Mahoney made the appointment.

Boston, Mass., June 2—Officer Charles Linehan, of the Boston Police Department, arrested two men for rowing a boat too fast in the pond on the Public Gardens. Officer Linehan declared that the men were endangering the lives of the people in the swan boats. The men gave their names as John Salvato and Frank Brennan, both of Cambridge.

WILLIAM GARDNER WRITES PLAY FOR THE ADVOCATOR

William Gardner, the noted author, has written a play entitled "Red Gulch" which will appear serially in the Advocate. It deals with the life of Dick Dalton of the U.S.A.

The scene opens in the little town of Haywood, Texas in the year 1845. The pony express rider has been killed, and his horse returns to Haywood—without a rider.

Postmaster: Who'll carry the mail through Red Gulch?

Dick Dalton: I.

Postmaster: And who are you?

Dalton: I am Dick Dalton.

Postmaster: Not Dick Dalton of the U. S. A.?

Dalton: The same.

AVIATION FIEND INJURED

Boston, Mass., June 3—Henry Sawicki, the man who knocked aviation off its feet, and put it in the air, had been practicing parachute jumping from the elevator in the Clayman Dept. Store—until yesterday, when he jumped from the elevator, which was on the ninth floor of the building at the time. The parachute didn't open, and now Sawicki is in the hospital, suffering with a bruised elbow.

Goffstown, N. H., June 4 — The employees of the Persh Emm Rug Co. arrived here today for their annual outing. Vice-president of the firm, John Byrne, will conduct a one-legged foot race, with the employees as the contestants. Last year's winner of this event, Bill Conley, will defend his championship against Ed Walker, of the bookkeeping department. Miss Constance Mahoney, of the office force, will act as judge of this event.

CARAGIANES' BOYHOOD DREAM COMES TO LIFE

There was a gala celebration at number 360 Washington Street, Boston, last night when Nick Caragianes and Bob Sheehan opened their new deluxe restaurant. Since his school days, Caragianes had always wanted to serve the public as a restaurant owner, so he induced Mr. Sheehan, the financier, to come into partnership with him. After weeks of planning, buying equipment, and remodeling a former clothing store, the work was completed; and, at last, Caragianes' dream took on real life. Invited guests at the opening were: Mary Coughlin, who flew from New York for the occasion; Pauline Soren, society editor of the Boston Herald; Jim Coyle, president of the Coyle Chemistry Laboratories; Gertrude Mahoney, the Governor's personal secretary; Vincent Page, of the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce; Dick Gayne, coach of football at Harvard; Dorothy Hoffman, radio singer; and Jean Szymaszek, teacher of the Russian ballet.

ODDITIES

Nellie Raulinitis, the authoress of "The Penpoint Murder Case," is planning to write a real down-to-earth story about a parachute jumper.

Al Richardson claims that he has never given a pint of blood to a dying person, but he has to a starving mosquito family.

Officer Joe Kelley, of the Cambridge police, tried to hire a stool-pigeon, but his prospect refused, because he couldn't do bird imitations.

Larry Frisoli was going to buy a tent and awning business, but he found out that business was folding.

Bertram Rodman declares that a newspaper editor is like a motorist, because he aims at the man in the street.

RADIO NEWS

Tonight on station WELL the Hollywood Carnival Show presents Chris Burke and Grace Wood, the songbirds of the A. B. C. network, in the new play, which has just been purchased by the Warner Brothers Film Corporation, entitled "Our Heroes—The Mounties." Mr. Burke and Miss Wood have accepted the leading roles in the picture. They will be assisted by George McMahon, winner of the Motion Picture Academy Award last year.

The first game between the Boston Bruins and the New York Rangers will be broadcast over station WAUO at 8 P.M. tonight. Announcer Everett Hart intends to interview the Rangers' goalie, Phil Carey, between the first and second periods.

Tom Forde, the comedian who made the hillbilly accent famous, returns to the airwaves tomorrow night with his new program, sponsored by the Gryncel Hair Tonic Company, "The tonic that makes your hair stand up and be noticed." Esther Frongello and her all-girl band, featuring Rose Marcellino as vocalist, will supply the musical portion of the program.

Waldo Sateriale, character actor of the Cranky network, has been signed as the leading player in the new "Crime Cannot Stay" series which starts on June 28.

Dr. Walter Feeley, of the American Medical Association, will speak on "Sanitation in the Home" over Station HARK. Dr. Feeley's address is sponsored by the Remo Caroselli Company, makers of the new Chewy Dog Biscuits. Mr. John Cotman, editor of the Chicago Tribune and life long friend of Dr. Feeley, will be present at the address.

RECIPE

Miss Mary Toomey's recipe for Whipped Cream Cake has been accepted by housewives all over the country.

Cambridge, Mass., June 5 — Artist Dick Freniere yesterday realized an ambition that had beaten within his hairy bosom since the day he first studied art. After painting "Keep Off the Grass" signs for the city of Cambridge for ten years, Freniere was promoted. His new position calls for him to paint white lines at the street crossings.

THE THEATER

Ralph Parsons and Dan Pero, co-managers of the R.K.O. Theatre, announced that opening tomorrow on the screen is the new Metro Goldwyn Mayer extravaganza, "Frank Rockwell—Salesman", starring S. Howard Miller in the title role. Playing opposite Mr. Miller, is Gwen Gilbert, the new Sam Goldwyn discovery.

On the stage of the Metropolitan Theatre starting Thursday is a new revue, direct from the New York stage. Heading the revue are Bud Young and Martha Crossman, the King and Queen of ventriloquism; the Bill Malloy-Gertrude Mills Dancers and Evelyn Leslie, impersonator. Barbara Fogelin, world famous cartoonist and artist, will give artistic illustrations of famous people, including Congressman Gordon Buchanan, of Massachusetts, John Reynolds, editor of the New York Times, and Laddie O'Connell, America's number one crooner.

One of Broadway's sensational hits this season has been the Charlie Jones and Dan Keohane play, "The Water Trail." It is rumored that the Paramount Studios have bought this drama and it will go into production immediately. Tom Curran and Margaret Barth have been chosen as the leading players, and it is hoped that Jerome Crowley, that grand old character actor of the screen, will play the part of Uncle Dan, the lovable old man in the play.

HOLLYWOOD

Warners' is preparing "The Belle of Texas" as an Alma DeCoen vehicle . . . Edward Bradley has been signed by MGM to do the adaptation of "The Man Who Warred" . . . Valeria Klevas has been signed to a long term contract by Universal, and her first picture will be "The Orange Grove," opposite John Hodoian, who has just returned from an ocean trip abroad.

In the New England heavyweight boxing finals at the Boston Garden last night, Tony Accardi, of Cambridge, punched his way to a three round decision over Steve "Killer" Ptak, also of Cambridge. The thousands of fight fans present "booed" the decision, and so did Ptak.

Leo Galligan, pitcher, Angelo Grassia, outfielder, and Leo Shea, third baseman, were purchased by President Art O'Dea, of the Boston Bees, from the Chicago Cubs. O'Dea also announced that two slugging infielders would be brought up from the Baltimore Orioles; their names are Bob Carr, hard hitting first baseman, and Ed McSweeney, shortstop and winner of the "Most Valuable" player award of 1948.

In the Woman's Double tennis matches at Forest Hills, New York, next Sunday, we find Ruth Matis, Olympic tennis queen, and Grace Martin, twice winner of the Donald Budge trophy, teamed together against Peggy Cass, last year's winner of the Tilden Cup, and Florence Hughes, recent queen of the amateur courts. This match should provide much action, as Miss Matis and Miss Cass have long been tennis rivals.

Claire Kelley, of the Cambridge Golf Club, defeated Charlotte Knight, of the Longwood Country Club, in the first match of the Woman's National Open Golf tournament at Belmont, yesterday.

A VIEW OF CAMBRIDGE

By Hava Glance

That new clothing store that opened last Monday morning in Central Square is owned by Bernard Alperin and Dave Rothman. The boys intend to start a chain of stores, if business continues to be as good as it has been in the past week. Watch out, boys, because there might be too many "links" in this chain store business.

Ed Blanchfield, of Cambridge, has been arrested by State Police Inspector John Connor on the charge of taking pictures of a man in the electric chair, without the consent of the State Prison officials. Methinks he never would have got permission, anyway.

This year's Cambridge Teachers' Play will be "The Heckling Student." Miss Dolores Lester, teacher of English at the Latin School, Miss Mary Kochanski, teacher of Stenography at the Latin School, and Mr. Robert Dick, Arithmetic teacher, have the leading parts in the drama. They will be assisted by Miss Ernestine Mulkern, the new head of the History department, and Mr. John Bunevich, Art teacher.

Miss Pauline Hodsdon, head of the Hodsdon Girls' Dramatic School, informs your reporter that Loretta Haley and Marie Barry, two of the screen's greatest dramatic actresses, and Zevart Hollisian, the comedy star of "East Is West," will be guests at her home for the next week. Edna Des Roches, the screen's number one actress, who was expected to accompany the girls on their visit, will be unable to come, owing to a throat irritation, which she received while on location. As you probably know, Miss Hodsdon gave the above named actresses their first chance in the dramatic world, when she starred them in her annual stage productions at the Boston Opera House.

George Moran and Phil Taft, this city's gifts to the traveling salesmen's world, have visited every large city in the United States. What a collection of towels these boys must have, because they have stayed at hotels all over the country.

THE REVIEW

This year, the Review's fifty-third of publication, has been a successful one. The aim of the editors has been, not only to preserve the excellent literary standards of the past, but in addition to produce a magazine of greater appeal to the entire school. Consequently, more than usual emphasis has been placed on departments, sport features, and pictures, and items of school interest. The members of the under-classes have been encouraged to take an active part in the Review. Many freshmen and sophomore articles have been printed.

The business managers have devoted their energies more than ever to the soliciting of advertising. Thus the amount and quality of advertising appearing in the Review has been considerably raised.

This year, three members of the staff were admitted to the Quill and Scroll, an international society of high-school journalists. Those honored were Marie McCabe, Pauline Sorem, and John Reynolds. The Review received second honors in the 1939 competition of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Special commendation must be awarded to the faculty advisors, Miss Kelley and Mr. Fougere, whose assistance in the preparation of the Review has been invaluable.

K. B. NOTES

Farewell but not goodbye.

We K. B. members who are graduating leave with a hint of sorrow mingled with proud joy: sorrow for the passing of our joyful, good times that now must be placed in our book of memories. We shall remember our initiation in November when after playing pranks on the new members, we relented and received them with solemn dignity and eloquence. At Christmas time when the streets were banked with snow drifts we co-operated with Santa Claus to bring happiness to some crippled children. Our dance comes next to hold to our hearts awhile before reluctantly we file it away. In billowy tulle and chiffon and lace we acquired sophistication as we whirled in the arms of our handsome escorts.

We shall not forget our progressive supper for many years. There were four courses served at the homes of Eva Hegemann, Betty Mahan, Florence Rix, and Rita Sullivan. This affair was a huge success. And we shall always remember the fun we had at the old-fashioned barn dance held at Lexington on April 29, when we danced the Virginia Reel, the Paul Jones, and of course, many waltzes.

And now our last good time is yet to come. June 3 is the date, but what is planned for this day is still a K. B. secret. On that date a new President and Secretary-Treasurer will be elected to follow in the footsteps of our present officers. Their solemn installation will take place on June 5.

After that we will seal our memory book with many thanks to Miss McElroy and Miss Buckley on the very last page, as their image will linger for many years to come.

Betty Mahan, our President, and Alice Bitinas, our Secretary and Treasurer, lead us in our fond goodbye to Cambridge High and Latin School.

DEBATING TEAM
H. Oster, E. Hart, G. Sokol, A. Boruchoff, J. Moriarty, J. Cole.

DURELL DEBATING SOCIETY

The Durrell Debating Society has just completed another year of active debating. As a result of the two sessions, we have debated but two high schools, Watertown and East Boston. Our experiences on these two occasions were very enjoyable and profitable.

The interest of the debators has not waned as a result of lack of interscholastic debates, but has been sustained by the concentrated debate activities of the teams within the school itself. The intra-mural debates have developed for this year a splendid team.

Those who participated in the debates this year were Everett Hart, George Sokol, Harry Oster, James Cole, Arthur Boruchoff, and John Moriarty. The only two debaters to be lost by graduation are Everett Hart, and James Cole; thus the remaining boys form a splendid nucleus for next year's team.

The climax of the year was the annual Durrell Prize Debate held on Thursday evening, April 27, in the school hall. The subject for this debate was, Resolved: That the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain. The affirmative team consisting of George Sokol, Harry Oster, and Everett Hart won the debate, and their names were inscribed suitably on the Durrell cup. The best speaking award, the Durrell medal, went to John Moriarty of the negative team.

A word of appreciation is due Mr. Cleveland for his untiring efforts in helping us make the year a success, and to Miss Breau, our coach, for her hard work and unexcelled advice.

With four out of the six debaters returning next year, the Durrell Debating Society can look forward to a gala year in 1939-1940.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The motto of the Girls' Athletic Association, "To Make Everyone Happy," best explains the principles and fundamental meaning of the organization. With a great deal of sorrow, we bring to a close the year's activities in the G. A. A.

Among the novel and entertaining parties held in the gym this year were "The Freshman Initiation," "The March of Music," a Christmas Party, and a Girl Dance. An informal Boy Dance held at Rindge was, in spite of the many other activities at the time, a great success.

The G.A.A. Formal was held at the Hotel Commander with its customary formality and dignity. After seeing the girls dressed in gym suits the greater part of the time, it was a pleasure to see them so charming and lovely.

After much careful consideration, the officers selected a new secretary, Lena Smerlis, to take the place of Ruth Twomey, who found it necessary to resign.

The picnic as usual brings to a close all G.A.A. activities.

The senior officers, who will leave office, are Claire Kelley, Phyllis Norton, and Anne Sullivan. Their leaving will be a great loss not only because of their fine work but also because of their spirit and enthusiasm.

The Bicycle Club, under the competent supervision of Anne Sullivan, enjoyed a successful year. Among the several hikes taken by the club was a supper hike at which the girls did their own cooking over an open fire.

We should like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and appreciation for the sage counsel and friendly assistance of our faculty adviser, Miss Alice M. Brown, without whose patience and kindness we could have accomplished but very little. It is chiefly due to her that the G.A.A. has given us so much of joy and help.

SENIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

SENIOR BASKETBALL

This year's senior basketball showed an exceptionally fine spirit of sportsmanship and loyalty. In spite of the many difficulties confronting them as a result of the two-platoon system, they continued to attend practice faithfully.

This fine team under the encouraging supervision of their captain, Helen Rymsha, was composed of only seven members: the forwards were Helen Rymsha and Agnes Drozd; the centers, Ruth Matas and Grace Martin; and the guards Phyllis Norton, Claire Kelly, and Anne Sullivan.

This plucky team lost the inter-class championship to a strong junior team after a hard fought series.

The schools which the girls met on the court this year were Needham, Waltham, and Weston. The first two games were lost by a very close margin, but the team beat Weston by a large score. In this game, the playing of the two forwards, Helen Rymsha and Agnes Drozd, is certainly worthy of mention.

The alumnae game, which was held on April 1, provided much humor in addition to an extremely exciting game. After a hard fought struggle in which the victims who made fouls were punished by all sorts of foolish penalties, the alumnae were defeated.

To Miss Brown, our coach, the senior basketball team wishes to express its appreciation for the assistance and friendly advice which she has given us throughout high school.

SWIMMING TEAM

C. Kelley, J. Cameron, M. Feeley, P. Norton, M. Shea, A. Sullivan.

SWIMMING

Swimming practice began this year in January under the competent supervision of Mrs. Perdyne.

The team was composed of two seniors, Anne Sullivan and Claire Kelley; one junior, Mary Feeley; and two sophomores, Jean Cameron and Mary Shea. Undoubtedly, the outstanding swimmer on the team was Jean Cameron, with excellent diving displayed by Anne Sullivan.

The results of the interclass meet were as follows: Jean Cameron won free stroke and back stroke; Mary Feeley won side stroke for style; Anne Sullivan breast stroke for style and diving.

Girls' swimming is a sport which is continually gaining more and more recognition. This year we have found much enjoyment in this very beneficial sport.

TENNIS NOTES

The year opened with the double tennis tournament with fine playing displayed by many girls. Medals were awarded to the winners, Claire Kelley and Phyllis Norton. As there was great enthusiasm for playing outside schools, a successful team was formed which defeated Medford High School by a score of 4-1. The seniors who won the singles matches are Claire Kelley, Phyllis Norton, and Sue Jones.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Fourth Row: J. McGrail, F. Fallon, J. Galvin, M. Babaties, J. Kelley.

Third Row: W. Holland, P. Carey, J. McCule, J. Richards, A. Coffey, R. Canina, R. Boudreau.

Second Row: Mr. Garrett Foley, Faculty Manager, G. Makris, J. Klashman, J. Orr, D. Henry, J. Meehan, A. Bonsignore, J. Whalen, Mr. Elcewicz, Coach.

First Row: R. Gayne, B. Sheehan, Captain J. Randall, L. Mahoney, J. Boyle, Nick Caragianes.

FOOTBALL

Latin's football did not fare as well as was expected, due to the late appointment of coaches. The new coach after getting off to a late start, tried to lead the players to victory, but despite their efforts, they could not make the win-column. Twenty-five boys from the squad had had past experience, eight of them were first team players the previous year.

In the first game of the season, played with Somerville, they lost by a 14-0 score. The next game played with Rindge, resulted in a score of 14-6, in Rindge's favor. The latter scored a touchdown during the last quarter, and an intercepted pass was made. Then came their winning game, played with Brookline. Success was due to Captain, also Captain-elect Randall, an outstanding back. He was followed by Boyle who made some spectacular plays. Other backs worthy of mention were: "Larry" Mahoney, "Phil" Carey, Ralph Canina, and Claude Henry.

The most impressive linesmen throughout the year were: Leonard Doyle, Lawrence Frisoli, Robert Sheehan, Nicholas Caragianes, and Richard Gayne.

Those receiving letters were: Randall, Mahoney, Henry, Carey, Boyle, Doyle, Frisoli, McClellan, Sheehan, Caragianes, Gayne, Orr, Babaytis, Boudreau, Canina, Klashman, McCool, Bonsignore, Holland, Galvin, McGrail, Makris, Dillon, and Fallon.

BASEBALL TEAM

Fourth Row: W. Holland, A. Coffey, J. Gardner, B. Flannery.

Third Row: H. Lane, P. Manis, J. McGrail, M. Babajutis, J. Butter, A. O'Dea, G. Wetmore, J. Randall.

Second Row: Garrett Foley, Faculty Manager, R. Canina, B. Sheehan, P. Taft, W. Kelley, N. Caragianes, G. Makris, C. Henry, Mr. James Foley, Couch.

First Row: J. Whalen, L. Galligan, B. Carr, J. Power, A. Grassia, R. Boudreau, L. Shea, E. Crowley, R. McCourt.

BASEBALL

Prospects for a championship baseball team at C. H. L. S. this year are very bright.

Captain Angelo Grassia will hold down the right field territory, while "Nick" Caragianes and "Phil" Taft will take left and center respectively. In the infield we have a host of veterans; on third base is Leo Shea, who saw action last year and promises to be one of the best players in the Suburban League.

At short stop Mr. Foley, the coach, made no selection, but it seems to be between Lane, Crowley and Boudreau. First and second bases are well taken care of by Robert Sheehan and John Randall, who were strong hitters on last year's championship team.

John Powers and "Phil" Carey will see action behind the plate, with Powers doing the majority of the work. The pitching assignment will go to Leo Galligan, Jim Gardiner, Claude Henry, and Joe McGrail.

It is very probable that these boys will receive letters: J. Powers, P. Carey, L. Galligan, J. Gardiner, C. Henry, J. McGrail, R. Sheehan, R. Carr, J. Randall, R. Boudreau, E. Crowley, H. Lane, L. Shea, N. Caragianes, P. Taft.

TRACK TEAM

Third Row: M. Rosenberg, I. Piensky, W. Bragga, F. Corcoran, E. O'Rourke, F. Bates, J. Hughes, M. O'Brien, J. Mills.

Second Row: Coach J. Murphy, C. Gore, R. Margetson, D. Scott, P. Taft, R. Barnard, E. Appelstein, Faculty Manager Garrett D. Foley.

First Row: M. Swartz, P. Wagner, E. Stanton, G. Kennedy, C. Henry, E. Bulger, J. Ford.

TRACK

The Cantabs track team was not as impressive as it might have been, due to the lack of material.

Scarcely thirty-five candidates reported to Coach Murphy, and only a few veterans.

The most outstanding man on the team was George Kennedy, who ran a fast 300 and did exceptionally well in the high and broad jumps. James Boyle ran many fast dashes, winning several in the course of the year.

Claude Henry and "Johnnie" Hughes were the two long distance runners. Edward Appelstein and Dudley Scott were the two mainstays on the relay team. "Eddie" Bulger was an aid to his team mates obtaining many points in the high jumps, and promising to be a champion contender this spring.

Those receiving letters were: E. Appelstein, F. Barnard, F. Bates, J. Boyle, E. Bulger, J. Hughes, C. Henry, G. Kennedy, E. L. O'Rourke, D. Scott.

HOCKEY TEAM

Third Row: B. Beck, D. Ryan, N. Manning, G. St. Hilaire, J. Regan.

Second Row: Mr. Foley, Faculty Manager, J. McCauley, R. Patten, W. Rowe, J. Roach, J. Randall.

First Row: T. Mahoney, B. Rogers, R. Mulcahey, Captain Phil Carey, Captain-elect John Powers, L. Latanowich, R. Murphy.

HOCKEY

When Mr. Culhane, the coach, called out the hockey team this year he was met by inexperienced men, only a few veterans. The team proved unsuccessful, ending up in last place; the cause for this was lack of veteran material.

Captain Carey was an outstanding player; he was the best goalie in greater Boston. John Powers was an asset to the team playing either wing or defense.

Tom Mahoney proved a steady and aggressive defense man, scoring several times during the season. Rogers, Mulcahey, and "Herbie" Boudreau did the most part toward scoring for their team.

Those awarded letters: P. Carey, H. Boudreau, T. Mahoney, R. Mulcahey, R. Rogers, R. Murphy, G. St. Hilaire, L. Latanowich, J. Powers, J. Reagan, D. Ryan, E. Manning, F. Roche, J. Carter.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Second Row: R. Clashman, R. Jones, J. Culhane, R. Margetson, J. Kelley, S. Nichols, R. Preston, J. Richards, J. Whelan.

Front Row: Captain-elect John Herlihy, S. Liakopoulos, W. Cain, Captain Ned O'Dwyer, J. McGrail, A. O'Dea, A. Young.

BASKETBALL

Starting the season with practically all veterans, the basketball team proved to be very successful. They lost five games which kept them out of the Tech Tournament.

Edward O'Dwyer was by far the most outstanding player. He was highly rated as being one of the best players in the state. Walter Kane was one of the fastest men to wear a Latin suit in recent years. John Herlihy played a strong defensive game and did his share of scoring. Liakopoulos, Doyle, and Richards came through when the points were most needed. Joe McGrail and "Phil" Jones can not escape mentioning as the most capable guards on the team, making it hard for their opponents to score.

The following were awarded letters: S. Liakopoulos, P. Jones, W. Kane, J. McGrail, D. Preston, A. Young, J. Culhane, E. O'Dwyer, J. Herlihy, J. Richards, S. Nicholas, L. Doyle.

We, the Class of 1939, find it only fitting that so generous and beneficent a class should leave to next year's students large and bountiful gifts. Each bequest is made with due dignity and hopeful advantages.

To the freshmen whose hours will be filled with new pleasures and experiences, we leave friendly desks and friendly rooms; so congenial are we that our names pop right off the desks to greet you with a scratch or two.

To one so sophisticated as a sophomore, we deem it a privilege to bequeath the second floor; but mind you, take care lest you bump into a dean when making a hasty exit after third period.

To the juniors we leave the pleasures and joy that come with the first prom and distinction of being upperclassmen.

And then the seniors—to you, well, we leave many more gifts, for it is your class that will find itself making just such a will as this one year from today.

First, we leave the "dignity and bearing" so significant of a senior.

To the commercial students, we leave typewriters galore—good ones and bad ones. (The good ones are in the front of the room.)

To the college students, those intellectual souls, we heartily leave Miss Butler's English college boards. May you do better with them than we did!

To the chemistry enthusiasts we leave, also with pleasure, all the hydrogen sulfide and carbon disulfide. May your noses turn up—as ours did.

And to all aspiring actors and actresses, we leave a Senior Drama; and whether you play the parlor maid or the professor—just think—at least you were in it!

To our faculty, we feel we leave a big headache—so big in fact that we earnestly bequeath two cartons of aspirin tablets.

We bequeath all the ditches and foundations of our new school building to all the workers outside our windows who tried so hard not to disturb our classes with their drillings.

To the general public we leave four classes of healthy boys and girls whose hours are spent in lessons and intellect-building rather than in gas mask drills and man destruction.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have set our hands and seals unto this, our last will and testament, this sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-nine.

Epilogue

Another chapter in our lives is ended. Only a short time ago we entered C.H.L.S. as freshmen; now, as seniors, we are preparing to find our places in a troubled world. During our years here we have learned much of books, something of life itself. Perhaps our greatest achievement, however, has been our realization of how much more knowledge we must yet acquire in order to discover the complete richness of existence.

Our parting hope is, therefore, that age and experience will increase our ardor for learning so that we may drink deeply and heartily of the beautiful bittersweet of life.
